1. Trust 54 Iron and Steel Works is located in the Vyborgskaya Storona (Vyborg Quarter) of Leningrad. It is connected with the Leningrad-Vyborg Railroad Line by a single track line. (See Sketch No. 1 on page 2.)
2. There are about 2,400 workers employed in the factory: 2,300 Soviets, including those serving sentences, and 100 German PWs. There are three shifts with about 800 workers per shift.
3. The factory manufactures the following products: streetcar rails, various iron and steel components, and iron hooks and grabs of various sizes.
4. The factory has been enlarged since World War II and considerable repair work has been done, as there was appreciable damage from bombing. Some of the buildings are constructed of masonry and some of reinforced concrete. A wall, about six feet high, surrounds the factory, but there are no watchtowers. Factory police are stationed at the entrance and patrol the plant. Work permits are checked at the entrance. (For a layout sketch of the factory, see Sketch No. 2 on page 2.)
